A low-angle shot of a young child with blonde hair, wearing a blue and white striped shirt and a blue scarf, sitting in a hot air balloon basket. The basket is made of woven straw and has several small burlap pouches hanging from it. The child is looking up and to the right, with one hand near their face. The basket is suspended by thick, braided ropes from a large, bright blue balloon. The balloon is decorated with colorful bunting flags in red, white, and orange. The background is a clear blue sky with wispy white clouds.
